Everybody Going To This Affair

One of the most novel and attractive entertainments ever arranged in Carmel is to take place tomorrow evening at the hall of the Arts and Crafts.

A very fine exhibit of original posters, submitted in the contest, has been arranged, and everyone present will be allowed to cast a ballot for the poster they like best.

The Carmel Orchestra has been engaged for dance music and between dances a valuable silk sweater will be disposed of. Then there will be more dances preceding the auction of the kelp dolls from Big Sur.

And on top of it all refreshments will be served. It can't be beat for 35 cents.

Forest Theatre Council is Grateful

At a meeting of the Forest Theatre Council last Sunday evening, $200 of the $500 raised for the Red Cross, was voted for immediate needs for materials, and ordered paid the local chapter. The balance will be turned over when accounts are closed.

The following vote of thanks was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Forest Theatre Society expresses appreciation and thanks to each member of the casts of "A Thousand Years Ago" and of "The Blue Bird," from supernumeraries to leads, for the cheerful labor of rehearsals and careful preparation and acting; to each dancer and instructor, each musician, each artist, each planner and builder, to the designers and workers who costumed the plays, to the newspapers who gave space and publicity, to the box-office and gate men, tishers, guards, and man on the lights; all of whom served in their places to make the summer plays of 1917 a success.

And the society desires especially, in reply to the criticism of the local newspaper, to thank the artists who DID NOT make the stage a "feast of color" to "satisfy the eye of the flesh" and the "eye of the mind" of that critic. The building of a comic opera China town on the Forest Theatre stage would have been easy; the artistic restraint that enhanced the beauty of the forest without vulgarizing it, was more difficult, more truly art; and for that simplicity, our thanks to our artists.

Woodland Dancers Saturday Evening

There is nothing conventional or provincial about Carmel's public entertainments, and an evening devoted to choreographic art will establish a precedent at the Forest Theatre on Saturday next.

Jeannette Hoagland and her Woodland Dancers will present a program that will not only exhibit the technique of the dance, but will embody dramatic ideas, including three numbers—An Indian Fire Ritual, Pavlova Gavotte, and The Moment Musical, the dances have been created by Miss Hoagland. She is a devotee of the modern school, which seeks spontaneous expression, and strives to develop in her students an individual standard of art.

Among the interesting features of the entertainment there will be presented a scenario written by Mrs. Ellen R. Vahlen. It is a poetic fantasy of the Moon Lady, Dawn, and the Joy Sprite.

Than the Forest Theatre a more picturesque setting for these dances cannot be imagined. Under the silvery moon a Spanish maiden will click her castanets, dancing nymphs will frolic, and Pan will draw near to glimpse his lost world when art and nature were one. Miss Etty Shavitch, a daily pupil of Miss Hoagland, will give Tarantella Dance. The program closes with Miss Hoagland's famous Moth Dance.

It has been determined that the $500 donated by the Forest Theatre Society shall be devoted entirely to local uses, and not sent to Washington.

Get Ready For Month-end Laugh

"Androcles and the Lion," G. Bernard Shaw's masterpiece of comedy, will be given a splendid presentation by the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts, at the Forest Theatre, on the nights of July 27 and 28, Perry Newberry being stage director and coach. Sixty-three people will be in the cast, besides one magnificent lion from Mexico.

Professor H. D. Gray of Stanford as Androcles, with Charlotte Kett of the University of California as Megaira, his wife, should prove exciting, as both are instructors of the drama at rival institutions of learning. Katharine Cooke will be Lavinia, a Christian martyr, and Ernest Schweninger her Roman Captain. In the cast are also Marian and Charis Boke, Joe Von Ende, Austin James, Alice MacMougal, Eugene Gillelt, Joseph W. Hand, and many more local actors.

Miss Grace Wickham is preparing an elaborate program of classic dancing, which becomes a part of the action of act three.

The play is the greatest laugh producer ever attempted at the Forest Theatre, not excluding "Charley's Aunt."

Notice to TAXPAYERS

All taxpayers are required by the constitution to annually make and deliver to the Assessor a statement, under oath, setting forth specifically ALL the real, personal, or other class of property, owned by such persons, or in their possession, or under their control, as the same stands of record at 12 o'clock Meridian on the first Monday of March.

The Political Code provides, that all property must be assessed at its "full cash value," and defines "full cash value" as being "the amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor."

Unsecured Personal Property
The taxes on all unsecured personal property are due and payable and must be paid at the time the assessment is made.

Exemptions
Any person or association, claiming any property to be exempt from taxation, must make the claim and affidavit, for such exemption, every year, in the manner provided by law. This applies to the $100 allowed on personal property of householders; the $1000 allowed soldiers, sailors, marines, etc., and property used solely and exclusively for religious worship.

Assessments
Any information desired relating to assessments will be gladly furnished on application, and all objections should be made before the Board of Equalization adjourns, instead of waiting until it is time to pay taxes.

Remember, that if you fail to make a statement you fail to comply with the law and you law yourself liable to arbitrary assessment, which is expensive to yourself and causes much trouble to others.

The Fowler family have departed for their home at Willits, where they will remain several months.

Mrs. A. Hall is here from Palo Alto with her daughters. Russell Hall is "somewhere in France."

Our Weekly Recipe

SCOTCH OATCAKE

Ingredients—A quarter pound medium oatmeal, pinch of carbonate of soda, pinch of salt, one level teaspoonful of melted bacon fat, enough hot water to mix to about the consistency of porridge. Method—Sprinkle a handful of extra meal on the pastry board and knead the mixture on to this carefully. Flatten out with the back of the hands or rolling pin until very thin. Cut into flour, six or eight farral shapes; carry the pasteboard to the griddle and slide them carefully on to it, which should be hot, and dry the oatcakes for twenty minutes without coloring. When beginning to curl, lift them on to a baking sheet, and dry in a cool oven or in an oatcake toaster in front of the fire.

"Androcles and the Lion," not "The Toad," will be the month-end play to be given on two nights, under the auspices of the Arts and Crafts Club. "The Lion" is one of Bernard Shaw's best comedies, and if we cannot have "The Toad," because of Perry Newberry's inability to play the title role, let us rejoice that a work of the eccentric Irishman will be presented here.

BE A BOOSTER !

In this day of strife and sadness,
I've a song of cheer and gladness;
What boots it if the meter's bad,
If it but serves to make you glad?
BE A BOOSTER—that's my message
You may never pack a gun;
From the damp and dismal trenches
You may never wing a Hun.
Yet your bit is just as helpful,
Even though you wear no saber,
If you strive to keep the sunshine
In the heart of friend and neighbor.
Boost your country, boost your friend,
Boost the lodge that you attend;
Boost the town in which you're dwelling,
Boost the goods that you are selling,
Boost the people round about you,
Maybe they might do without you;
But success will quicker find them
If they know that you're behind them;
Boost for every forward movement,
Boost for every new improvement;
Boost the stranger and the neighbor,
Boost the man for whom you labor.
Cease to be a chronic knocker,
Cease to be a progress blocker;
If you'd have your home town better
Back it to the front today!

A letter has been received from H. P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross Council, thanking the local chapter for its work in the recent money-raising campaign, and suggesting that acknowledgement be made to the public.

In another column is printed Carmel's roll of honor—young men who have volunteered for military service. If you have a relative in the country's service, let the Pine Cone know.

Mrs. McGillicuddy has donated a hand-made sweater (silk) to be disposed of at the poster exhibit dance tomorrow night. The sweater is on exhibition at headquarters.

Strangers and residents will have no difficulty now in locating local headquarters. To Ben Leidig thanks are due for painting signs, which have been posted on the side of the building.

Men who can wield a brush are asked to appear at the Red Cross workroom at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Paint has been donated. Spreading it on the floor is a man's job.

The local Red Cross finance committee met at headquarters Monday afternoon and canvassed the needs of the chapter. In a few days pledge cards will be issued to those who desire to contribute a stated sum monthly.

W. L. Overstreet, Editor Pine Cone.

My dear Mr. Overstreet—I believe when you generously offered to devote each week space in your paper for Red Cross items that the intention was primarily for its purely local activities.

While a publicity committee of eminently competent men has been appointed, I have begged from our chairman permission to free lance along that line.

When the World conflict began, our old colored friend and servant, Sarah, often asked me if her Mr. Ritschel, then in New York, was not nearer the war than she and I on our peaceful "Paint House Hill."

I realize now, as I did not then, that he was very much nearer it, by reason of being surrounded by a conscious, constant expression and activity concerning it.

One frequently makes us of and hears the expression, "we are not awake," that "we fail to realize the gravity of the situation," etc.

Psychologically, it is not to be expected that people of remote and outlying districts be as keenly alive as those who exist under the pressure of a big collective consciousness.

We must wake up. Destiny has pronounced us all soldiers for democracy. Our American Red Cross has sent forth its proclamation that we all enlist as soldiers of humanity.

As a means toward recruiting for the Army of Mercy the national Red Cross has established a bureau, the special duty it is to stimulate the activity of outlying districts. While Carmel might be, comparatively, regarded as such a district, it is in no sense provincial. Here are gathered men and women of all nations. The Red Cross work-room here has developed an atmosphere where foreign voices are trying to speak to our American minds and hearts.

A personal letter is a very delicate and intimate expression, and in ordinary times held sacred, but in war times these expressions are not for individual ownership. Some of our people here are willing to share their European letters with us.

I am writing to ask if you will consent to publish such letters.

Sincerely, Zora Ritschel

The editor of the Pine Cone will consider it a privilege to publish these letters, and the first publication will begin next week.

Following the entertainment the will be Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, given by Rev. R. M. Mestres, pastor of this parish. This will be the first Benediction service in the old Mission for nearly one hundred years.

Irrespective of creed, Carmelites love the old Mission, and are proud of possessing the historical center of California civilization, and will no doubt rally to this benefit performance.

CLUB NOTES

By Miss I. A. JOHNSON

At a recent meeting of the Boys' Club, Mr. Michael Williams told the boys of his experiences on the flagship California, off the coast of Mexico, and closed his talk with an appeal to patriotism.

Last Saturday a number of the boys, under the direction of Mr. S. C. Thomas, had an early breakfast on the beach, and then went on a short "hike." Incidentally they learned how to make willow whistles. They are looking forward to the next event, which they hope will be a camping trip.

GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP CARMEL

Here is the girl's own story. "For two years I had dyspepsia, sour stomach and constipation. I drank hot water and olive oil by the gallon.
Nothing helped me until I tried buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. ONE SPOONFUL helped me INSTANTLY." Because Adler-i-ka flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. Carmel-by-the-Sea Pharmacy.
